Duration: 11:50 am - 12:20 am (30 mins.)

Attendees: Kate, Gabby

I. Discussed Items

- Thought of ways to restructure the closet for better user experience.
  - Create an additional class to reduce cramping of information and cleaner layout.
- Discussing what core functions should be definitely inputted to meet the most important user requirements.
  - Closet and Dashboard are the most important functions.
  - Considered focusing on closet and dashboard before focusing on forum and brand reviews
- Discussed not compromising core functions and usability over elaborate design
  - Producing correct statistics and displaying straight numbers is more important than fancy diagrams

II. Users Stories Selected for Current Sprint

- As a user, I would like a closet feature where I can add, delete, and edit my clothing information.
- As a user, I would like to know about the sustainability ratings of clothing brands and types of materials through the dashboard so I can consider my clothing habits.

III. Users Stories Completed

- As a user, I would like to be able to use a navigation bar so that I can easily navigate and access through each core functionalities of the application.
- As a user, I would like to be able to scroll through a page that contains a lot of information so that all the information is not cramped and hard to read.
- As a user who wants to access their own personal closet, I would like to register my own account using a user management system (login/signup) so that I can access my own information and so others can't access my account as well.

- As a user conscious about the privacy of my data, I would like my account to be secure through encryption so that no one can easily hack into my account.
- As a user who enjoys the design of applications, I would like to see an application with a set color, font, and layout theme and design so that it enhances my user experience.
